POLITICAL.

THE TARIFF DEMOCRATIC-FREE TRADE MONARCHICAL.

Extract from the Speech of the Hon. Andrew Stewart, of Penn., in defence of the Tariff and Distribution; de-livered in the House of Representatives of the U. S., March 13, 1844.

I ask the committee upon what principle of national policy this measure [reduction of duties] is sustained ?

I ask the committee upon what principle of national policy this measure [reduction of duties] is sustained?

[Mr. Daoatoobe replied to enable bare-headed people to buy cheap hats!]

To enable bare-headed people to buy cheap hats! Sir, let me tell the gentleman, if he carries this measure, the poor people of this country would not only go bare-headed but bare-backed; they would be doomed, like the paupers of Europe, to go half fed and half clad. The tariff, sir, is "the poor man's law;" it is this and this alone that gives him employment and wages. Just as the tariff goes down, the wages of labor will go down with it. Repeal the tariff—adopt the gentleman's favorite plan of "free trade," and you will bring down the labor here, in every department of industry, to the level of the labor of the serfs and paupers of Europe. This is certain—it is inevitable. As certain as the laws of gravitation—as inevitable as that the removal of an obstruction between two unequal bodies of water, will reduce the one to the level of the other. Repeal the tariff, and what is there to prevent our country from being instantly inundated with the productions of the low priced labor of Europe? When hatters, shoemakers, blacksmiths, and all must come down and work as cheap as they do, or give up the market! With the present facilities of intercourse by steamships, you might as well attempt to establish and sustain higher prices and wages here than in Europe, under the delusive and Eutopian scheme of "free trade." But, sir, this scheme would bring in its train other and more fearful consequences. Adopt this scheme, and you will soon bring down and degrade the now free and prosperous labor of this country, not only to the moral, but to the political condition of the slaves and ser's of Europe. By reducing their wages, you depive the poor man of the means of educating h s children and fitting them to be free. By thus depressing one class of your people, you necessarily elevate another. You divide society horizontally into upper and lower cla character and tendencies, it is a policy which promotes equality, not by depressing one class, but by elevating all—by elevating, sustaining, and protecting the labor of your own country against the ruinous and degrading effects of a too free competition with the low priced and depressed labor of Europe. These are views which belong to this subject, and should not be overlooked or disregarded by those who represent the free labor of this country, and especially by those who make professions of democracy and love of the people. Now is the time, and this is the question, to test their sincerity.

THE DUTIES ADDED TO THE PRICE, NOT TRUE.

The great and leading objection to the protective policy is, that the duties are added to the price, and paid by the consumers. This objection lies at the foundation of the opposition to this policy; and, if unfounded, this opposition ought to cease. The duty is added to the price; th's is the theory. Now, sir, how is the fact; what says experience? All experience proves that this objection has no existence, save in the imaginations of those who make it. Now, sir, I lay it down as a general proposition, that there never was a high protective du-ty imposed upon any article, from the foundation of this Government to the present day, the price of which has not been in the end reduced greatly reduced—in many instances to one-half, one-third, and one-fourth of what it had been before these protective duties were imposed. I'his, sir, may seem to gentlemen on the other side to be a strong declaration; but, sir, I make it deliberately, with a full conviction of its truth, and I challenge gentlemen to disprove it—I defy them to point out a single instance to the contrary. Let them examine, and they will find invariably that, wherever the duties have been highest, the prices have ultimately come down the lowest, and for a very obvious reason-high duties promote competition, and competition never fails to bring down prices. This effect is invariable and universal; but unfortunately the duties always run up as the prices run down; hence the frightful lists of duties exhibited by hence the frightful lists of duties exhibited by the Committee of Ways and Means, amounting to 200, 300, and 400 per cent. When first im-posed these duties were but 30 or 40 per cent.; but now, owing to the reduction of prices, they have run up to 200 or 300 per cent. By way of illustration, take the article of glass, on which a duty of $4 a box was imposed at a time when glass cost $12; this was then a duty of 33 per glass cost $12; this was then a duty of 33 per cent, but now when home competition, induced by this protective duty, has brought down the price to $2 a box, the duty, owing to this reduction of price, is 200 per cent, instead of 33; the same is true of many other articles on which the duty, when imposed, did not exceed 20 or 30 per cent. cent., but now, owing to reduction of price produced by home compe ition, they amount to 2 or 300 per cent. When four cents per pound duty was put on cut nails, the price was twelve
